2008 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges

Each year, Who's Who Among Students has furthered the aims of higher education by rewarding and recognizing individual academic excellence on a national level. With the support of prominent educational institutions in all sections of the country, this program is today a true reflection of the caliber of the American college student.

Thomas Jefferson School of Law selectees are upper classmen whose academic standing, participation in extracurricular activities and community services are superior in nature. In addition, they had to survive the subjective test of being nominated by individual students, student organizations, faculty and administration.

For those who are awarded the honor, personalized certificates will be issued. In addition, students will receive local and national publicity by having their singular accomplishments presented in the 2008 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. This distinguished reference publication tells the story of this year's college generation and serves as a valuable incentive for tomorrow's outstanding campus leaders.

As a lifetime benefit, student members of the Who's Who program are entitled to use the special Reference Service, maintained for the exclusive assistance of students seeking employment. There is no initiation cost or membership fee to the nominated student for the services.

H. Pettus Randall III (1945-2002) SCHOLARSHIPS worth $1000 each have been established and will be awarded to ten 2008 WHO'S WHO students. Since all qualified students have been determined by their institutions to be outstanding scholastic performers, the scholarships will be awarded based on a random selection in May 2008 by an independent judging organization. Every student who has completed the WHO'S WHO student profile in its entirety and mailed it to WHO'S WHO, PO Box 2029, Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35403 or completed the form online at www.whoswhoamongstudents.com between August 1, 2007 and May 1, 2008 will be eligible to win one of the scholarships.
