ABOUT OUR LAW SCHOOL

Thomas Jefferson School of Law is located in beautiful San Diego, California, America's ninth largest city and an incomparable setting for graduate law studies. With 70 miles of fabulous Southern California beaches and bays, San Diego features the finest climate in the continental U.S.

The law school is conveniently located within minutes of the world famous museums of Balboa Park, the artists' havens of Little Italy and La Jolla, the trendy restaurants and night clubs of the Gaslamp Quarter, the stadiums where the city's professional sports teams play and the historic sites that mark the birthplace of California.

In early 2011, the law school is moving to a brand new 178,000 square foot state-of-the-technology campus in Downtown San Diego. The new campus will also include a 171 apartment student residence and a spa/gym facility overlooking Petco Park Baseball Stadium.

ACCREDITATIONS

Thomas Jefferson School of Law is accredited by the American Bar Association (ABA) and is a member of the Association of American Law Schools (AALS).

ABOUT THE DIAMOND PROGRAM

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Today's globalization demands specialized international tax and financial services competence for tax and finance risk managers. Based upon the Diamond publications started in 1950, the Diamond Graduate Program is offered online via web video-conferencing that allows lawyers, accountants, tax professionals and government officials to conveniently earn a graduate degree and/or professional certification from anywhere in the world.

Since 1998, the Diamond Graduate Program has educated more than 1,000 alumni located in more than 80 countries. Our current and past students include executives of law and tax firms, banks, government agencies and multinational companies.

Thomas Jefferson School of Law offers the LL.M. (Master of Laws), J.S.M. (Master of Science of Law) and J.S.D. (Doctor of Juridical Science). The 40 course curriculum provides a thorough and current knowledge of the laws, regulations, concepts and practices of international and U.S. taxation and financial services, and the courses are approved to count towards several professional designations.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

ASSOCIATE DEAN WILLIAM H. BYRNES, IV

Widely known as the pioneer of online graduate legal education, Associate Dean Byrnes was a senior manager, then Associate Director of International Tax for Coopers and Lybrand practicing in Africa, Europe, Asia and the Caribbean. He is author and editor of 10 books and treatises and 17 chapters, and the co-author of Foreign Tax & Trade Briefs and Tax Havens of the World as well as the developer of Mind Maps - International Tax series.

DR. ROBERT J. MUNRO

Dr. Munro is Co-Director of the Center for International Financial Crimes Studies and a Senior Research Fellow and Director of Research for North America of CIDOEC at Jesus College, Cambridge University. He is the author of 23 published books, including the co-author of Foreign Tax & Trade Briefs and Tax Havens of the World.

MIND MAPS - INTERNATIONAL TAX

Developed by Associate Dean William Byrnes, Mind Maps - International Tax is a revolutionizing research tool providing intra-linked, multi-level structural outlines of a subject, with pictorial representations of topics and drop-down lists of research resources. Each Map communicates in context the concept's relevant related processes and issues and contains extensive links to further primary or analytical content.

Mind Maps - International Tax represent an excellent resource for users looking to gain an understanding of the topic at hand, as well as an efficient research roadmap to navigate to analytical resources for deeper information.

The initial Mind Maps - International Tax may be leveraged for your research at the Tax Law Community:

WHAT OUR STUDENTS SAY

"It is apparent that the Master of Laws in International Taxation & Financial Services program at Thomas Jefferson School of Law is highly respected by my employer. Since I started in late 2009, I have been assigned to a number of national and international projects. This year, I transferred to a new operating division that focuses on international employment tax issues. I highly recommend the program to anyone who wants to be recognized as a progress employee by their employer."

- Stephen Polak CPA, Senior Internal Revenue Agent, U.S. Department of the Treasury

"During my employment with the United States Departments of Justice, Treasury and Homeland Security, the hard work required by the LL.M. in International Taxation & Financial Services provided me with an exceptional knowledge foundation. That knowledge foundation assisted me in complex investigations that addressed international money laundering, banking fraud and national security matters."

- Enzo Cannizzo, Special Agent, U.S. Department of Homeland Security (retired)

"This program at the Thomas Jefferson School of Law has opened up a whole new frontier of learning for me. The online format allows me to be anywhere in the world - on lunch break, at home or even sitting on the beach while attending class. This is FANTASTIC! The academic level is high, the professors are knowledgeable, very accessible and appear to have a genuine love of teaching. The learning resources available are wide and varied. The material is very important to me being able to perform at a higher level in my job in the BVI."

- Neil Smith, Financial Secretary of British Virgin Islands
